LEONARDO 2019

*Celebrations for the 500th anniversary of the death of Leonardo da Vinci
(1519 - 2019)*

LEONARDO IN VINCI. AT THE ORIGINS OF THE GENIUS

15 April – 15 October 2019

Vinci, Museo Leonardiano

The Exhibition

In Vinci, the Leonardo site par excellence, the exhibition Leonardo in Vinci. At the Origins of the Genius is centered on Leonardo's biographical connection to his hometown and on the suggestions that his homeland offered toward his itinerary as an artist, technician, and scientist. In this perspective, some documents from the Archivio di Stato di Firenze (Florence State Archives) are presented, fundamental for the reconstruction of the earliest events in the life of the Master, along with the first drawing known to have been executed by Leonardo, the Landscape, dated 5 August 1473, conserved at the Gabinetto dei Disegni e delle Stampe of the Gallerie degli Uffizi in Florence.

Of great suggestiveness within the biographical section is the display of Leonardo's great-grandfather's notary register. On the last page of this book, Leonardo's grandfather Antonio da Vinci recorded, after the notation of his own sons' birth, the event of the birth of Leonardo, his first grandson, along with the land registry references of the da Vinci family pertinent to the artist's infancy and early childhood. In the section dedicated to the youthful drawing of the 1473 Landscape, identified as a representation of the Valdarnievole and of a part of the Valdarno Inferiore, we see a record of the suggestions offered to the young Leonardo by his homeland. The image, in fact, constitutes a veritable "palimpsest" of all of Leonardo's future work, in that it is already possible to glimpse therein his profound interest in nature, his fascination for water and its swirling movements, his researches in the fields of geology and cartography. In this context, the drawing can be read from several points of view, from the historical-artistic to the historical-geographic, highlighting the thematic elements present in relation to Leonardo's successive scientific, technical, and engineering inquiries.

The itinerary includes multimedia presentations and reconstructions of projects by Leonardo relating to the territory around Vinci and the Valdarno Inferiore. Set up in the Castello dei Conti Guidi, one of the Museo Leonardiano's three sites, the exhibition is thus integrated with the portion of the Museum's collection of machines and models relating to studies on water, hydraulic engineering, and cartographic representation of the Valdarno Inferiore.

Inauguration

15 April 2019 - Vinci, Biblioteca Leonardiana Museo Leonardiano di Vinci Piazza dei Guidi, 50059 Vinci (FI), tel +39 0571 933251 www.museoleonardiano.it The Leonardian Celebrations

The exhibition is part of the review of Leonardian Celebrations, a calendar of events and initiatives dedicated each year by the city of Vinci to its most renowned citizen, Leonardo da Vinci, between the anniversaries of his birth and death (15 April 1452 – 2 May 1519).

Opening the review is the Lettura Vinciana, the historic conference held annually by an internationally renowned Leonardo scholar.

The lands of Leonardo da Vinci

Leonardo da Vinci's presence in the territory of the Union of Municipalities Empolese Valdelsa (including the municipalities of Vinci, Empoli, Castelfiorentino, Cerreto Guidi, Certaldo, Fucecchio, Gambassi, Limite e Capraia, Montaione, Montelupo Fiorentino) is felt even today, and it stands at the basis of the tourist itinerary that traces its path starting from his hometown, Vinci.

For the 500th anniversary of Leonardo's death, in 2019 the municipalities of the area are collaborating on a project known as "Leonardo 2019", which will include initiatives of cultural interest and relating to showcasing the entire territory, distributed into macro-areas: Museums and places of cultural interest; School and training; Innovation and business.

One of the main elements of the project is the theme of landscape, expressed in various manners, in accordance with particular research paths: from the famous Landscape drawing created by Leonardo in 1473, which will be on display in the Museo Leonardiano in Vinci, to Leonardo's studies on the Arno and the Valdelsa territory, and further on, to an itinerary touching on the places frequented by the master from Vinci.

It was in these lands, in fact, that Leonardo carried out his first geo-paleontological observations, laid the foundations for his studies on waters, carried forward the hydraulic projects that resulted in his cartographic representations of the Valdarno, and, at the same time, certainly, found inspiration for his drawings and celebrated paintings.

The showcasing of the Leonardo-Empolese Valdelsa landscape relationship will therefore be represented through the realization of exhibitions in various museums of the territory, as well as by the organization of initiatives of an informative nature and the drafting of an attractive calendar of events.
